Passionate FullStack developer who is eager to learn new languages and absorb new knowledge. I am flexible with using Ruby on Rails, JavaScript, React, and Redux. I have a background in nursing, which I went to school for, but changed my career with one year left until graduation. I don't regret it, have been in love with coding from the beginning, and enthusiastic about new knowledge. My background in nursing helped me build skills in team-oriented jobs, communication, being vigilant, and leadership that any companies will need.
